The Iranian Canadian Legal Professionals (ICLP) is a not-for-profit, non-partisan, non-religious organization, incorporated under the Canada Not-for-profit Organizations Act.

The ICLP was formed in early 2014 pursuant to a merger between two non-profit organizations: the Iranian Canadian lawyers; Association (ICLA) and the Iranian Legal Professionals of Ontario (ILPO). With a collective membership of over 300 legal professionals, ICLA and ILPO contributed a wealth of knowledge and over a decade of experience to the ICLP.

The mandate of the ICLP is to:

- Build, maintain and strengthen a network of Iranian legal professionals in Canada, consisting of lawyers, paralegals, law clerks and law students
- Establish mentorship programs and provide guidance to Iranian legal professionals in Ontario at various stages of their careers
- Establish links between the Iranian legal community in Ontario and the broader legal community in the province
- Promote and advocate on behalf of lawyers and law students of Iranian descent
- Raise public awareness in and provide a forum for discussion on issues affecting the Iranian-Canadian community
